SAFEGUARDING POLICY & PROCEDURE

1. Introduction

1.1 Safeguarding means:

- Protection from abuse and neglect
- Promotion of health and development
- Ensuring safety and care

Fircroft College recognises that members of staff, governors and students have a role to play in safeguarding individuals at risk and preventing their abuse.

2. Safeguarding Adults

- 2.1 The safeguarding of adults at risk of harm is not an option but a responsibility across all organisations. The expectation for all “at risk” adults is that they are empowered to be free from any preventable harm or exploitation. They are enabled to make their own choices about their lives and to live as independently as their personal circumstances may permit.

An adult is a person aged over 18 years of age.

3. Safeguarding Children

- 3.1 If there are any safeguarding concerns regarding children of students or visitors to the college, the safeguarding policy will apply.
- 3.2 Children should not normally be on site but if they are they should be in the care and responsibility of their parent or guardian. The College is an Adult Education Provider and we do not have on-site childcare provision. Where short course students have a last-minute breakdown in childcare arrangements, we will give them option to be a non-resident, learn online if possible or request that they withdraw from the course on this occasion and provide them with an alternative option to study.

Children are not allowed in classrooms when adult courses are taking place under any circumstances. Children may be allowed on-site on occasions and these include:

- If accompanied and supervised by a parent or guardian for a short period of time for example to enquire about short courses or access community events or services.
- Long course resident students’ children for short visits with the permission of the College in emergency situations.

Children may be allowed on site overnight on these occasions.

- Conferences or external events by prior arrangement when the College does not have any courses taking place.

4. Promotion of Health and Development

- 4.1 The college aims to provide a supportive environment that will help learners with mental health difficulties to realise their academic potential and meet course requirements. We also aim to facilitate and promote positive mental health and well-being.
- 4.2 The college embeds a proactive approach to Safeguarding and Prevent through covering the subject in lessons and delivering enrichment activities in this area also.
- 4.3 The college recognises the significance of the Equality Act 2010 to college safeguarding, including that colleges: must not unlawfully discriminate against students because of their protected characteristics and must consider how they are supporting students with protected characteristics by taking positive action, where proportionate, to deal with the disadvantages these pupils face.
- 4.4 The importance of providing a safe space for LGBTQ+ students to speak out and share their concerns is also recognised within the college

5. Safe Recruitment and Selection of Staff, Governors, Volunteers and Partners

- 5.1 The College has a Recruitment and Selection of Staff Policy linking explicitly to this policy. The policy statement regarding safeguarding is included in all job advertisements, publicity material, recruitment websites and candidate information packs
- 5.2 The recruitment procedure is robust in seeking to establish the commitment of candidates to support the College's measures to safeguard any adult who may be considered to be 'at risk' and to deter, reject or identify people who might abuse individuals or are otherwise unsuitable to work with them.
- 5.3 Partner organisations and their staff working with the college are required to have their own safeguarding training in place or alternatively complete the college safeguarding training before working in partnership.

6. What is abuse?

- 6.1 Abuse can be defined as 'the mistreatment by any other person or persons that violate a person's human and civil rights.'
- 6.2 Abuse can be generally defined into one of the following categories:

- Physical abuse
- Emotional abuse
- Sexual abuse
- Financial abuse
- Self-Neglect
- Neglect or act of Omission
- Organisational abuse
- Modern slavery
- Domestic abuse
- Discriminatory abuse

6.3 The abuse can vary, from treating someone with disrespect in a way that significantly affects the person's quality of life to causing actual physical or mental suffering. Other examples of possible concern include:

- Peer-on-peer abuse
- the impact of new technologies on sexual behaviour and accessing pornography
- issues that may be specific to a local area or population, for example gang activity and youth violence
- female genital mutilation
- honour-based violence
- forced marriage
- child sexual exploitation (CSE)
- cuckooing

6.4 Abuse can happen anywhere: in a person's own home; in a residential or nursing home; in a hospital; in the workplace; at a day centre or educational establishment; in supported housing, in the street or online

6.5 Our focus at the College is to be vigilant regarding looking for signs that a student may be at risk whilst on the premises or being abused outside of the College.

7. Who can abuse?

7.1 The person responsible for the abuse can be well known to the person being abused, and could be:

- a paid carer in a residential establishment or from a home care service
- a social care worker, health worker, nurse, doctor or therapist
- a relative, friend, or neighbor
- another resident or person using a service in a shared care setting
- someone providing a support service
- a person employed directly by someone in their own home as a carer or a personal assistant

Others can be strangers who:

- befriend vulnerable people with the intention of exploiting them including blackmail and grooming.
- deceive people into believing they are from legitimate businesses, services or utility providers.
- intimidate vulnerable people into financial transactions they do not want or cannot understand.

7.2 All staff should be aware that students can abuse other students and that it can happen both inside and outside of college and online. It is important that all staff recognise the indicators and signs of abuse and know how to identify it and respond to reports.

Peer on peer abuse is most likely to include, but may not be limited to:

- Bullying (including cyberbullying, prejudice-based and discriminatory bullying).
- Abuse in intimate personal relationships between peers.
- Physical abuse such as hitting, kicking, shaking, biting, hair pulling, or otherwise causing physical harm (this may include an online element which facilitates, threatens and/or encourages physical abuse).
- Sexual violence.
- Sexual harassment.
- Causing someone to engage in sexual activity without consent, such as forcing someone to strip, touch themselves sexually, or to engage in sexual activity with a third party.
- Consensual and non-consensual sharing of nude and semi-nude images.
- Upskirting - which typically involves taking a picture under a person's clothing without their permission, with the intention of viewing their genitals or buttocks to obtain sexual gratification, or cause the victim humiliation, distress or alarm.
- Initiation/hazing type violence and rituals (this could include activities involving harassment, abuse or humiliation used as a way of initiating a person into a group and may also include an online element).

8. Safeguarding responsibilities and training

8.1 Safeguarding is everyone's responsibility and it involves:

- being aware of the risks of abuse and neglect that individuals can face
- recognising the signs of abuse
- knowing what help is available and who to report concerns to
- understanding their responsibilities
- working together to report and investigate concerns
- working together to prevent abuse and neglect
- the five R's of Safeguarding are recognise, respond, report, record and refer

8.2 The Designated Safeguarding Lead and the Safeguarding Team will attend training opportunities on an annual basis to stay up to date with Safeguarding and Prevent matters.

- 8.3 The Safeguarding Team will ensure that new Safeguarding and Prevent training at induction and that all staff, volunteers and governors receive annual training on Safeguarding and Prevent matters including points noted in 8.1 and new and emerging concerns.

9 Online Safety

- 9.1 The College recognises that safeguarding learners, and providing them with the skills to safeguard themselves when using technology, is a key aspect of the College educational offer and the key focus of the College online safety.

- 9.2 The College also recognises that banning, blocking and filtering approaches, though useful, cannot be regarded as sufficient protection for learners and it does not relieve the College of a duty of care with regard to safeguarding learners and employees. Through a combination of effective policies and practice, a robust and secure technological infrastructure and education and training for learners and staff, the College will develop an effective online safety strategy across all learning provision.

- Provide a safe environment for all learners and employees
- Adhere to legal responsibilities
- Ensure that technologies are used responsibly in order to support innovative and effective learning and teaching
- Educate learners to identify the risks technology can present, and help them develop the skills they need to safeguard themselves
- Assess the risks presented by technology and develop appropriate policies and guidance to mitigate against those risks
- Involve managers, staff and learners in developing acceptable use policies and establishing reporting procedures for unacceptable use.
- Promote a culture of online safety within the College.
- Ensures that there are appropriate filters and monitoring systems are in place, whilst ensuring that “over blocking” does not lead to unreasonable restrictions as to what students can be taught with regard to online teaching and safeguarding.

- 9.3 Governing bodies should regularly review the effectiveness of college Filters and monitoring systems. They should ensure that the leadership team and relevant staff are:

- aware of and understand the systems in place
- manage them effectively
- know how to escalate concerns when identified.

- 9.4 Online safety risks can be broadly mapped across four areas:

Contact:

Which may be unwelcome or inappropriate, including grooming or sexual contact.

Commerce:

Illegal activity such as phishing or identity theft.

Content:

This could include inappropriate or illegal content, material that incites racial hatred, condones and encourages support for terrorism and forms of extremism leading to terrorism or criminally obscene content. It also includes the inappropriate public posting of material. This may apply to employees equally as to learners, and may include the inappropriate and potentially unsafe posting of personal data, or the posting of material that brings the individual or the provider into disrepute or impacts upon their business.

Conduct:

Includes activities carried out against the learner and also those carried out by the learner. This category includes anti-social or illegal behaviour, and the ranges of behaviours and activities that make up cyber bullying

- 9.5 Emerging online safety incidents will be reported to the designated person in line with the College safeguarding policy.
- 9.6 All teaching staff have the responsibility of educating students in their care about safe internet practice, including the reporting of any unsuitable material that finds its way through the College's web safety filter.
Through continuous and appropriate staff development, the College will seek to ensure that staff have the skills, knowledge and understanding required to both assess and mitigate against risks, and help learners develop the skills necessary to operate safely in a digital environment.

10 Safety at Work

- 10.1 In accordance with the college Health and Safety Policy so far as is reasonably practicable, the college will provide and maintain a safe place of work, safe machinery and equipment and safe and healthy working environments.

- 10.3 The safety and safeguarding of students on educational trips is covered in the college Trips and Visits Policy.

11 Radicalisation and Extremism

- 11.1 The College encourages students to respect the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect, and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs. We ensure that biased political views are not promoted in the teaching of any subject in the College and where political issues are brought to the attention of the students; reasonably practicable steps have been taken to offer a balanced presentation of opposing views to students.

- 11.2 We value freedom of speech and the expression of beliefs/ideology as fundamental rights underpinning our society's values. Both staff, governors and students have the right to speak freely and voice their opinions. However, freedom comes with responsibility and free speech that is designed to manipulate the vulnerable or that leads to violence and harm of others goes against the moral principles in which freedom of speech is valued. Free speech is not an unqualified privilege; it is subject to laws and policies governing equality, human rights. (See Freedom of Expression Policy).
- 11.3 We seek to protect all students against extreme religious or political ideology and messages of violent extremism.
- 11.4 We recognise that safeguarding against radicalisation and extremism is no different to safeguarding against any other vulnerability in today's society. We will ensure that:
- Through training, staff, volunteers and governors will understand what radicalisation and extremism is, why we need to be vigilant in College and how to respond when concerns arise.
 - There are systems in place for keeping people onsite safe from extremist material when accessing the internet in our College by using effective filtering and usage policies.
 - The Designated Safeguarding Leads have received Prevent training and will act as the point of contact within our college for any concerns relating to radicalisation and extremism.
 - The Designated Safeguarding Leads will make referrals in accordance with Birmingham Safeguarding Adults Board (BASB) procedures and will represent our college at Channel meetings as required.
 - We encourage students to respect the fundamental British values of democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect, and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs.
 - Effective arrangements are in place to identify and respond to tensions on or off campus which might impact upon staff, student and/or public safety in accordance with the college's External Speakers Policy.
